Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 41 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicant's amendment to claim 41 introduced new matter. Specification only enables drying temperatures of 50°C (original claim and specification page 7) and 100°C (specification page 14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 28-31, 34-43, 45-48 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over BROYDE (US 4,071,479) in view of MENDIRATTA (US 4,668,768) in view of evidence given in JP03265641 (Abstract).

The discussion of BROYDE and MENDIRATA from paragraph 6 of the office action mailed on 11/6/2006 is incorporated here by reference.

In the office action dated 11/6/2006 the examiner indicated allowable subject matter in claims 32 and 46 reciting halogenated flame retardants as additives. The Japanese disclosure is here by utilized as evidence that halogenated flame retardants are considered as conventional additives in PVC applications in molding compositions such as wire insulations. Since prior art of BROYDE discloses recycling of PVC cable insulation halogenated flame retardants would have been considered as conventional additives. Another disclosure that contains such teaching is US 2003/0181563. In view of the above halogenated flame retardants are encompassed as additives in the disclosure of BROYDE.

5. Claims 33, 49, 51, 52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over BROYDE (US 4,071,479) in view of MENDIRATTA (US 4,668,768) as applied to claims 28-31, 34-43, 45, 47, 48 above, and further in view of GROVER (US 3,256,212).

The discussion of BROYDE, MENDIRATA and GROVER from paragraph 7 of the office action mailed on 11/6/2006 is incorporated here by reference.

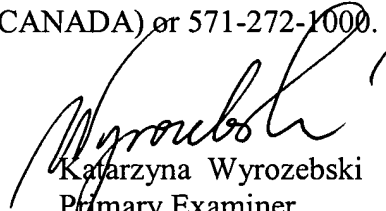

The examiner of record apologizes for any inconvenience regarding the rejections over the prior art of record. Applicant's arguments are therefore considered moot since the rejections have been re-stated.
